As many students now have access to Chrome books, this event test students' knowledge about Google as a search engine, its applications (docs, sheet, slides, Gmail) as well as its history.

Future Leader

This event explores qualities needed for leaders, positions or titles of leaders, and student leaders in middle school. Future Leader is similar to the FBLA (high school) event Future Business Leader.

Global Topics

FBLA chapters have been chartered in other countries including Canada and China. This event exposes students to current world topics that affect them as students and future citizens of the world. World leaders and global events that affect business will be included.

General Business

This event includes types of ownership, sizes of business, and business terminology. Knowledge of computer use in business will also be a focus.

Personal Budgeting

Students need to learn about budgeting and money matters at an early age. As current spenders and future employees, this event tests students on money matters including terminology and financial activities.
